Freshman Football Coach Named Varsity Coach, Youngest To Serve BYU

The appointment was made by President Ernest L. Wilkinson. Mitchell will replace Taly Stevens, who was removed from the top football position Jan. 5.

A 30 YEAR old native of Los Angeles, Calif., Mitchell is the youngest man to serve as head coach in BYU's gridiron history.

Consistent with BYU's policy, terms of employment, salary and length of contract were not announced. Mitchell will have the privilege of nominating his assistant coaches, said Pres. Wilkinson. "WE ARE confident," stated Pres. Wilkinson, "that Hal will produce competitive teams worthy of BYU. He will build these teams, as did his predecessor, on merit of good scholarship, high moral and spiritual attainment."

Mitchell was chosen on the basis of the following five reasons:
1. HE IS a faithful and devoted member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He has served as a counselor in ward, bishopric and branch presidency.
2. Mitchell has a good record as a player and team leader in the pickup sport. He captained the 1960 nationally ranked UCLA football squad and the Bruin rugby team.

Mitchell was chosen as the outstanding tackle on the All Pacific Coast Conference squad and played professional ball for the New York Giants. He was named the most valuable player in army football in 1954 when he headed the Fort Lee team.

3. Mitchell has received training under some of the nation's top coaches.

FOR THREE years at UCLA.

Coach Mitchell was under tutelage of the late Henry (Red) Sanders and his assistants Tommy Prothro (now head coach at Oregon State), Jim Myers (now head coach at Texas A&M) and Bill Barines, present UCLA coach.

4. Mitchell has been a successful coach in seven years of high school, army and college football. In two years of coaching BYU's freshman football team, Mitchell has coached the Klittens to a seven-win one-loss record.

5. COACH Mitchell is familiar with the football program at BYU. He will take up varsity coaching where he left off as freshman coach.

The 1961 varsity will consist largely of sophomores and juniors who were coached by Mitchell as freshman.

"ALL IN ALL, Mitchell is regarded as a player, a team leader, his overall training and his outstanding record in coaching performance, excited that of a young candidate," stated Pres. Wilkinson.

Tuttle Slated Speaker On Coming Devotional

Albert Theodore Tuttle will speak at the Wednesday Devotional services at Brigham Young University.

A member of the First Council of Seventy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Elder Tuttle will speak at 10 a.m. in Smith Fieldhouse.

PRELUDE music will be provided by the University Brass Chamber Ensemble, directed by William L. Wilkes. They will play "antiphonal Carzoma" by Gabrieli.

"The Jubilant Prayer of Mary" by Monteverdi, with Nadine Nelson, soprano soloist and Joan Thomsen on the organ will also be performed.

Elder Tuttle is new to his duties as a member of the Seventies Council. He was appointed to this position in 1958.

PREVIOUSLY he was one of the two heads of the Church-wide seminary and institute program operated by the Church in high schools and universities in the western states.

Elder Tuttle was raised in Mant, and has attended school at Snow College, Brigham Young University, Stanford University and the University of Utah.

AT BYU he was president of Delta Phi, a member of Blue Key, and was chosen the outstanding student in religion at the university in 1943.

Elder Tuttle now lives in Pleasant Grove with his wife and five children.

Senate Meets In Hearing On Nominees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 (UPD)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was expected to approve today three more top members of President Kennedy's State Department team.

The nominees called to a public hearing (at 10 a.m. EST) were George W. Ball, named as Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams, to be Assistant Secretary for African Affairs, and Roger W. Jones, to be Deputy Under Secretary.

The Senate last night approved the nomination of Chester A. Bowles to be Under Secretary of State, second in the department to Secretary Dean Rusk.

OTHERS APPROVED were Rowell L. Gilpatric, Deputy Defense Secretary; Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., Army Secretary; Eugene M. Zuckert, Secretary of Air; Paul H. Nitze, Charles J. Hitch, Arthur Sylvester, and Thomas D. Morris, Assistant Secretaries of Defense; Cyrus R. Vance, General Counsel of the Defense Department; Joseph V. Charyk, Under Secretary of Air; Lyle S. Garlock, Assistant Secretary of Air; James H. Wakelin, Jr., Assistant Secretary of Navy; Byroa R. Whizzer, White, Deputy Attorney General; Archibald Cox, Solicitor General; and H. W. (Bill) Brawley, Deputy Postmaster General.

Pirates Seize Portuguese Liner

AMERICAN and British warships watched the high seas of the Atlantic today for a Portuguese liner and its 800 crew members reported seized by 20 armed men in the most recent act of piracy in modern times.

The ship was last seen Monday near the island of St. Lucia, one of the lesser Antilles that stretches in a gentle arc from Puerto Rico nearly to the north coast of Venezuela and hems in the eastern Caribbean Sea.

Then it vanished on the high seas and where it was headed was only a guess: to Brazil where the pirates might seek asylum, to Cuba where they might land reinforcements, to the Cape Verde Islands off West Africa to set up an opposition Portuguese Government in exile.

Pinegar Reviews Past Semester For Senate

ASBYU President Max Pinegar, in his State of the Student-body address given at the Senate meeting Monday night said that the studentbody of Brigham Young University was in very good condition in every respect.

Pinegar also reviewed the events of the year in his address. He cited such examples as Homecoming, freshman orientation, and the leadership conference which was held at Jackson Hole, Wyo., just before school began last fall.

Other notable events were the AMS Men's Night, the Executive Council trip to Hawaii, and the Christmas vacation protest meeting. He continued to say that he felt the students for the fine, mature way in which they handled the situation.

PROGRAMS and events which will come during the second semester will be the inauguration of a new student assembly program wherein each class will meet separately every other month; the establishment of the student traffic route; the Campus Chest Drive; the AMS-AWS election in March and the general studentbody elections in April.

Pinegar then recommended that the Senate pass a resolution that BYU withdraw from the NSA.

HE COMMENTED that one of the purposes of this university is to build testimonies concerning the divinity of the LDS Church. "As a consequence," said Pinegar, "students here have an obligation to live exemplary lives."

He also took the opportunity to thank his assistants, his secretary, the executive council, Senate President, senators, Deans of Students, Student Coordinator, and the President's Cabinet.

S destroyers, a British and American planes the hunt despite a request by the pirate leader the ship and all aboard bottom of the ocean if it approached.

up, the 29,926 ton Santa had been headed from Peru and Curacao, two of the Venezuelan coast, Everglades, Fla., to Miami with gay vacationers, women and children.

PIRATES were reported seized control early Sunday in a gunbattle in which at least one man was killed and several wounded and the ship was captured.

Deadline Tuesday

of Spring Semester fees can be made until 4 p.m. Students having their $130 fee before registration standing in line during sign-up sessions. The office is located in front of the Maeser Bldg. open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Utah's Divorces

Dear Editor:
As President of the Utah Council of Family Relations, may I express to you our very real appreciation for the fine coverage which you gave in your paper to the recent visit of Dr. David Mace to Provo. Incidentally, one of the major reasons for the visit of Dr. Mace was to make further plans for the annual meetings of the National Council on Family Relations, which will be held in Utah next August 23 to 25th.

DURING the talk which Dr.

Mace presented at the Fieldhouse, he made the remark that he had been informed that Utah's divorce rate was the highest in the nation. The remark apparently shocked many people.

I had occasion to ask Dr. Mace concerning the source of his information. In response he stated that he had been told that by a member of the BYU faculty — whom he assumed he knew the correct facts. I expressed to Dr. Mace the thought that such a statement was undoubtedly in error. He asked that I check the matter rather carefully, and if the data indicated otherwise, that I correct as far as possible the impression which he had left.

DATA FROM the U. S. Statistical Abstracts for the years of 1940 to 1959 indicate very clearly that Utah has not at any time during this period had the highest divorce rate in the nation (data for 1959 and 1960 are not yet available).

For the years of 1940 to 1956 inclusive, the divorce rate for Utah was higher than the divorce rate for the nation as a whole. For 1957 and 1958 the divorce rate was considerably lower for Utah than the divorce rate for the U. S.

INCIDENTALLY, when comparisons are made between Utah, Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Nevada and Wyoming with respect to divorce rates, the data indicate that in 13 of the 19 years from 1940 to 1958, Utah has had the lowest divorce rate of any of the aforementioned seven states. In 1958 the divorce rate in Utah was 37th from the highest in the nation and was tied that year with Nebraska and Iowa.

During the period of 1940 to 1958 the divorce rate per 1,000 population in Utah has ranged from a high of 5.5 divorces in 1946 to a low of 1.5 divorces per 1,000 population in 1957 and 1958.

I sincerely hope that the publication of this letter will correct the misinformation which has been presented through no fault of his own.

Sincerely,
Kenneth L. Cannon
Professor of Family Relations

Trail Blazing

Editor:
On behalf of the Associated Men Students Council, I would like to thank all those who have cooperated in the keep-off-the-grass campaigns thus far this year. As a whole, we've noticed that the students have shown forth their usual spirit of honor.

We do feel, though, that there is still room for improvement, as a few students feel their election has been made sure. For these special individuals we would ask just one favor. Show initiative and blaze new trails in order to give drying blades of grass a chance to revive.

We would like to mention that this project is primarily aimed at eliminating "corner cutting," and "trail followers."

These measures are taken so that we will be able to enjoy "lawnology" and a beautiful green campus in the spring.

Thank you,
Cliff Mayfield
AMS Council

Delay Mission?

Dear Editor:
Again, one of our sports writers has brought up the old problem, LDS missions vs. BYU athletics. Jack Batchelor asks, "Can a mission call be put off just the same way as a draft deferment is issued?"

To my way of thinking, there is but one answer to this question: no. A mission should not be delayed until after an athlete has finished competing for the university; to do so is to relegate a mission to a status of less importance and urgency than our school athletics.

Furthermore, if an athlete waits until after graduation to serve a mission, chances are he won't go at all. He may be married (who can spend four years at our famous institution without acquiring a wife); he may feel that employment opportunities are better when he's fresh out of school than two years later; after so long, he may have lost that all-important desire to serve the Lord on a mission.

I'm 100 per cent in favor of winning BYU teams—but I'm even more in favor of LDS missionaries. And basketball players make good missionaries. . . especially in Australia.

Kennedy's Cabinet — Stewart Udall . . .

Mormon Has Interior Post

Stewart Lee Udall, who will serve as Secretary of the Interior in the Kennedy cabinet, is a born and bred Arizonian who won recognition on a national scale first as a crack college basketball star.

SINCE his college days at the University of Arizona, the 40-year-old Udall gained new national reputation as an Arizona congressman who became one of the most influential western spokesmen in the House.

From childhood, Udall has gained continual experience for his new job which puts him in charge of conservation and development of the nation's natural resources worth uncounted billions of dollars.

BECAUSE of his roots in Arizona, Udall gained early knowledge of Arizona's water, land, power, and Indian problems. These are the common problems of most western states, where activities of the Interior Dept. are of key importance in the everyday life of the average citizen.

Even more important, Udall has been a member of the House Interior Committee ever since he entered Congress six years ago. Service on the committee gave him on-the-job training for his cabinet post. Recognition of Udall's abilities is shown in the fact he was the cabinet appointment made by President John F. Kennedy.

UDALL was born Jan. 1920, in St. Johns, Ariz. He is the son of Levi S. Udall, U. S. Justice of the Arizona Supreme Court. Before taking his law degree from the University of Arizona in 1948, the erstwhile westerner interrupted his education to serve as an anti-aircraft gunner with the 15th Air Force in Europe during World War II.

A devout Mormon, Udall spent two years on a mission for the church. He married Emma Webb of Mesa, Ariz., in 1947. They have six children—Thomas, Scott, Lynn, Lori, Denis and James.

CAMPUS SCENES

by Edward Geary

Wearing a red beanie and a collegiate look, he sat gazing admiringly up at the Maester statue, "Say," he called out to me, "wasn't John R. Park a great man, though?"

"Yes, I suppose he was," I replied.

"Look at him, standing there in such dignity, looking out over the great university he helped build, serving as inspiration to all who pass by, quiet, strong, intelligent. At this point his emotions began to get the better of him. He took out a large red and white handkerchief and dabbed his nose.

"There's only one thing wrong," I said, as tactfully as I could, "This isn't John R. Park; this is Karl G. Maester."

"Impossible!" he said. "What would a statue of Karl G. Maester be doing in front of the John R. Park Memorial Building?"

"But this is the Carl F. Eyring Physical Science Center I told him.

"My," he said, "they've certainly got things mixed haven't they? The campus doesn't look at all like the pictures. There's some sort of Family Living Center where Kingsbury Hall should be, and a botany pond instead of the football stadium. I went looking for the golf course the other day and all I found was a lot of girls living in so place they call Heritage Halls. They've even wrecked the mountain. I suppose some pranksters from the place came up and put that tail on it. I think we should get together and go to Provo some night and really show the who's who around here—especially after they beat us in a basketball game Friday night."

"But," I said, "this is BYU."

"No!" He said.

"Yes, you're fifty miles away from where you thought you were."

"So that's why I never could find Billy McGill on campus. Which way did you say it was?"

"Just a little bit west of north," I said. "Around the point of the mountain."

"Thank you very much. You're very kind, for a BYU student."

He started away in the direction I had pointed out, heard him singing as he went, "Oh, I am a Utah man, singing."

Cat-Ute Upset Tops Action

by Marilyn Curtis
Ast. Sports Editor

A crowd of 10,923 fans saw some of the best in Skyline competition last week as a blazing Brigham Young University squad burned their way from behind to down the aggressive Utes, 81-66, topping the Utah team from their top-of-the-league perch.

Big Billy McGill was held to his average of 32 points by the Cougar defense as Dave Eastis tanked 33 points for the Cats. In other Skyline competition, League leading Colorado State University continued its winning ways on the road by downing the New Mexico Lobos, 60-53.

UTAH STATE got back on the winning side of the ledger last week with a squeeze win over Montana, 58-57.

The following evening Montana was plagued by a ball that wouldn't drop into the net as McGill paced the Utes to a 72-56 victory.

In non-conference games, Denver downed Colorado State College, 74-59 and Wyoming lost to the Air Force Academy, 70-59.
